

National First Ladies
Library and Museum
205 Market Ave S, Canton, OH 44702

The National First Ladies Library and Museum is the foremost repository of research and information about the significant role, contributions, and even fashion trends of First ladies throughout US history.

The First Ladies National Historic Site features the Ida Saxton McKinley Historic Home, the First Ladies Park, and the National First Ladies Library & Museum building just a block north. BOTH buildings are handicapped accessible.

Learn more at FirstLadies.org or call 330.452.0876

Membership Pass Benefits

- FREE admission for 2 Adults and all Children from the same household
- Access to National First Ladies Library and Museum
- Access to the Ida Saxton McKinley Historic Home – please call National First Ladies Library and Museum for tour times and information
- Tour the site for free (guided tours of the Saxton McKinley Home are on a first-come, first-served basis)
- 10% discount on gift store purchases
- 10% discount on applicable education programs

